Sir,

Sub: Submission of Compliance Report.

Ref: RCU/BGM/IQAC/2019-20/96 Dated 14.12.2019

With reference to above mentioned subject and reference, here by I am submitting compliance report of AAA Committee Recommendations.

1. Digital Laboratory to be set up.

As we all know, there is lack of proper infrastructure in the University. So the department of LIS is operating with limited resources like "one class room". There is no separate laboratory facility is allotted to the department. For time being all the practical classes are engaging in SCP/TSP computer lab on shift basis with other department. Both semester classes have been engaging in one class room. With this limited resources we are managing one P.G. programs in the Department. So in future, if infrastructure improved in the University, we can setup our own Digital Laboratory.

2. Collaboration with outside institutions needs to be expanded.

The department of LIS conducted 2 workshops on library automation in collaboration with two affiliated colleges from Belagavi & Vijayapur respectively. An national level conference also organized in collaboration in Jain Heritage School, Belagavi, KLE;s V.K.Institute of Dental Science, Belagavi, in additional to their two national conference organized an scientometric in collaboration with "Institute of Scientometrics an International non-profit Professional Organization" apart from their research papers in collaboration with faculty of various University & Organization.

In future we have plan to collaboration with other LIS departments & different Universities within & outside States like, Goa University, Shivaji University, Kolhapur to exchange faculty & students program.

3. More project work should be taken up on a priority basis.

The faculty members of the department in LIS are qualified & experienced in their respective research areas. In this connection, four research proposals have been submitted to the different funding agencies, but only one project proposal was accepted & sanctioned for minor research project funded by ICSSR, New Delhi & it is Complete. Furthermore, the faculty members are in the process of submitting their research proposals based on advertisement from the funding agencies.

4. Publication of articles in recognized international journals to be prioritized.

The department faculty members (four only) have engage themselves in the research activities in their area of specialization. For the period of assessment i.e from 2016-17 to 2018-19 department faculty members published over 28 research papers in UGC approved list of journals, out of these 17 national level journals and 11 international journals of repute.

Compliance Report against AAA Recommendations (visited during Nov 2019) Ref. RCUB/IQAC/2019-20/96 Dt. 14/12/2019

Observations:

a. Strengths:

- 1. Faculty is active
- 2. Skill development opportunities provided to students
- 3. Conduct student Research Projects
- 4. Faculty have obtained National and International awards
- 5. Faculty are engaged in collaborative Research and joint publications
- 6. Conducted several Conferences/ workshops.\

Chairman & all the faculty members in the Dept of Chemistry, RCU express their sincere thanks to AAA team for identifying the major strength in our Department. We shall continue and enhance this part for the overall development of RCU.

b. Limitations

- 1. Lack of building space (for labs & classrooms)
- 2. Industry consultancy / linkage is not visible.

We will try to overcome these limitations with the support of RCU authorities. Unfortunately, RCU is facing land issue to build a physical infrastructure. In the near future, we will have enough space as the land allotment process to RCU is on. Nevertheless, we are able to manage the available building space to conduct the Labs and Theory classes effectively.

Regarding the Industry consultancy / linkage, as mentioned below, we hope to establish a formal consultancy and linkage with Industries at the earliest through University-Industry Cell of RCU.

Recommendations

1: More building space is to be provided for the labs & Classrooms

RCU authorities are aware of this constraint, and we have restructured the allotted space to conduct the Labs and Theory classes, effectively. Nevertheless, we have requested the authorities to provide an additional room in the existing Hostel block to establish a common Instrumentation room.

2. Faculty should engage in Consultancy and linkage with Industry

Dear Sir/Madam,

In order to strengthen the academic and administrative activities of the university, an Academic and Administrative Audit (AAA) committee was constituted for the assessment periods of 2016-17, 2017-18 and 2018-19, under the Chairmanship of Dr. B.S. Sherigara, Former Vice-Chancellor of Kuvempu University, Shimoga.

The AAA committee after extensive interaction with the university authorities, the faculty members of all academic departments and Heads of Central facilities, has submitted its final report. Further, the committee has made certain specific observations along with various recommendations in order to improve the academic and administrative functioning of the university. The observations and recommendations are enclosed herewith for your kind information.

The committee in its report has appreciated the strengths and the good initiatives and practices taken by each department, but however it has made some critical observations and recommendations to improve the functioning of the academic departments as well as central facilities.

You are kindly requested to interact with all your staff members with regard to the observations and recommendations of the AAA committee and take necessary steps to implement the same. REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

The office of the Registrar seems to be equipped with necessary staff and IT facility for smooth functioning. It has kept itself abreast of things and has up to date information about the issues it deals with. Officials were able to give answers on all the issues about which detailed information was sought. The staff looked technologically trained as staff recharge programmes were conducted twice. All RTI applications are sorted out and needed information given to the applicants. Transparency seems to be ensured. Grievances of the stake holders are addressed within the stipulated time. The Sakala initiative of the GOK is fully adopted.

Out of 120 sanctioned teaching posts, 96 posts have been filled and going by the relative figures in other universities, this is appreciable. As regards the non-teaching staff is concerned, out of 272 sanctioned posts, 137 are in place. The administration feels that the position is satisfactory and there is no pressure of work warranting additional recruitments.

The CAS promotions of staff are carried out regularly. The ICT initiatives for effective e-Governance in university are visible and appreciable. At present the work of the Registrar Evaluation is also looked after by the office of the Registrar, supported by the support staff. One very good thing about the functioning is that there does not seem to be internal bickering in the general administration wings.
